

The best start for your product

Fertil Pot Tray

Over the past two years, Plants Management Australia has been striving to provide the best possible product to give your plants a head start. We are committed to providing a quality pot and tray in order to maximize the benefits for our growers.

We have been working closely with one of our contract propagators, Plant Grower's Australia, to produce and trial the Fertil Pot. Over 1 million have been produced over the last season.

We have found that the unrestricted and immediate rooting through any part of the pot has led to fantastic transplant success with no short or long term consequences. To date, the only real difficulty has been the ease of removal from the tray.

Plant Growers Australia along with Garden City Plastics has now addressed this with a purpose designed tray.

The new tray is shorter in height which allows for increased speed and efficiency on the potting bench, and less damage to the rim of the jiffy tube. The larger size of the basal hole also aids in the ease of removal from the tray. Both of these improvements will greatly reduce any restriction on the side of the pot when removed, thus saving you time and transplant shock.

We are looking forward to a busy and successful year ahead for all and hope this new tray will further reduce time and increase quality and success of your plants. The tray will be gradually introduced over coming months.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any further issues or queries so that we may address any concerns. We value all feedback from our growers and partners and look forward to working with you in the future on the development of new products to meet your needs.
